On May 10, 2022, the board of education approved a resolution to begin the start of the new school year one week earlier. The change will align San Diego Unified to one common academic calendar. The change will also allow for the semester to end one week prior to the December winter break.

Q: What is the change being made to the 2023-24 school year?
A: The 2023-24 school year begins one week earlier, Monday, August 21!

Q: When does the new school year begin?
A: The new school year begins on Monday, August 21.

Q: Who made the decision to implement the new start date?
A: On May 10, 2022 the board of education voted to approve a resolution on the new start date of Monday, August 21.

Q: Why did the board of education vote to approve the resolution for the new start date?
A: The board of education approved the change to transition to one common academic calendar including moving to an earlier August start date to be able to end semester one prior to the December winter break.